

BIRDING CENTRAL CHILE:
THE PACIFIC COAST & NATIONAL PARK LA CAMPANA

Length: Full day

Chilean Tinamou

The National Park la Campana is strategically located in the Coastal Mountain range of Central Chile. The very diverse gradient of flora give us the perfect condition to spend a day looking for some of the Chilean endemics as the Moustached Turca, Chilean Tinamou, the White-throated Tapaculo and the Dusky-tailed Canastero among a great array of passerines. The park is also the home of the last patch of Jubaea chilensis, the southernmost palm tree in the world that is close to extinction. This spectacular landscape plus the presence of the Scdreophyllous forest will also give us the chance to spot some other species more associated to dense forests as the Striped Woodpecker and the Chilean Pigeon among others.

TARGET: 40 SPECIES
